

23rd CONGRESS OF INEPS (International Network of Productive Learning Schools & Projects)

30 April – 5 May 2011
PATRAS - GREECE

Formal invitation

“THE HOLISTIC APPROACH AND MULTIPROFESSIONAL
COLLABORATION IN PRODUCTIVE LEARNING.
Has prevention from addictive substances and behaviours
a supportive role to it?”

Productive Learning prepares young people to a meaningful life and a professional career adapted to their needs and desires.

The main principles of the prevention from addictive substances and behaviors are based on the development of personal and social skills not only of the young people but also of their parents and teachers and the whole system that surrounds them, aiming at a meaningful life.

What is meant by meaningful life in a society which is going through a crisis of values and principles?

What professional career can the young people obtain in an economical and political crisis all over the world?

What are the needs and desires of young people and their mentors, parents, teachers that have to be met and fulfilled?

Where Productive Learning and prevention from addictive substances are found, and how much each one contributes to the other?

These are some of the questions we are invited to discuss and conclude to some proposals during the 23rd INEPS Congress in Patras.

The key speeches, the seminars, the workshops, the school visits, the cultural events, focus on the above topic and will give many chances to the participants of the Congress to deal with them in an interactive, energetic way.

Movement “PROTASI”, with the cooperation of the Drugs Prevention Centre of Achaia, is the Organization which will host this Congress in the beautiful city of Patras which has already hosted in 2002 the 14th INEPS Congress and the 8th Youth INEPS Congress in 2006.

OKANA (the national organization for the prevention of drugs) will support the Congress as well as the University and the Municipality of Patras. We hope that the Ministry of Education, Lifelong Learning & Religious Affairs will also support the Congress.

We, the educators of PL and alternative educational projects, know quite well to manage crisis situations. We are working in the harm minimization field for years serving our visions for quality in our life and a better future for us and the young people of our countries.

The 23rd INEPS Congress in Patras promises to offer the conditions for feedback, encouragement, recognition of our work, conclusions and action.

We invite you all to be there, to update our commitment and desire to be active citizens in a changing world.
